PARIS, Jan. 15.—The government of Spain today notified Premier Clemenceau of its official adherence to the League of Nations. Denmark, Switzerland and Sweden have acknowledged invitations to become members of the league without giving their official acceptance.

Edwards Defends Council Majority in Replying to Civil Service Criticism

In a voluminous report in which the civil service board of the city is attacked "for seeking to carry political favor," is dubbed ignorant, inefficient and scheming, W. H. Edwards, commissioner of finance and revenue, has opened wider than ever the breach which has existed between board and council. Incidentally Edwards pictured a majority of the city council as fighting, despite threats and "fortunes spent for propaganda," a winning and desperate battle with the allied vice interests.

Edwards' report at the outset is a reply to a communication of the board in which exception was taken to the council's treatment of a recommendation for increased salaries to city employees, but is concerned mostly with the proposed transfer of efficiency investigation work from the civil service board to the council. It constantly reverts to this question and, in its sequence, charges that those who seek in the plan the destruction of the civil service system are wrong and that, in reality, "three commissioners have simply determined to stamp out the vice interest of the city and are busily engaged in this work."

"And let me say," he adds without making plain the connection between the efficiency investigation and the vice interest, "that the city is being cleaned and will continue to be cleaned as long as the majority members of this council remain in office."

In general Edwards' argument is that he has always favored a civil service board as such, but that he is opposed to the body as now organized. His position is that, inasmuch as the council has assumed direct supervision of efficiency investigations, the efficiency expert should be under its supervision.

The report, in part, follows:

"When the civil service board stood for efficiency in the city government, I, as commissioner of finance and revenue, gave it my unreserved support. However, former boards could not be controlled by the mayor as he has frankly admitted several times in this council room, and so their members came into disfavor with him."

"Although six and a half months have passed in the new fiscal year this subversive board has not made a single recommendation for efficiency or a single suggestion that would improve the city business."

"The civil service board has endeavored in every way to discredit certain city commissioners. To require the council to receive instead of the report of an efficiency expert the garbled report of a subversive civil service body is to deny the

FALL IS INVITED TO VISIT MEXICO

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 15.—The Mexican government has offered to send a special train to the United States border for Senator Albert B. Fall of New Mexico, to make a trip of personal observation through the republic, according to an announcement made by Luis Cabrera, minister of the interior. Minister Cabrera said that a telegram was being sent to Senator Fall at San Antonio, Texas, amplifying the invitation.

With reference to J. McCulloch of El Paso, the text of the telegram, according to Senator Cabrera, follows:

"You have been looking at Mexico through a keyhole and have since since yourself of the real situation. The Mexican government would be glad to send you a special train to the border in which you would be able to travel throughout the republic."

Cabrera issued another denial of reports that Bolsheviks were entering the United States through Mexico.

"Bolshevism is invading the United States from Russia, not from Mexico," declared Cabrera.

By RALPH R. WAXNE, United Press Staff Correspondent. SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 15.—The difficulties of pioneering in Mexico were revealed today by American ranchers testifying before the Fall sub-committee investigating Mexican affairs.

M. B. Bee of Del Rio, Texas, yesterday told how, after two years operating on leased land across the border, he was able to return with only 250 head of cattle, though his original stock had been 500. Cattle depredations and inability to obtain protection from Mexican authorities forced him to leave Mexico in 1917, he said. Two of his men were brutally murdered, he testified.

HOUSTON, Texas, Jan. 15.—The oil steamship Trinidadian arrived here early today with the bodies of J. Roney of Houston and Earl Boies of Thompson, Texas. American sailors killed recently in the Tampico, Mexico, oil district.

The bodies were accompanied by Patrick Heeney, an oil contractor at Tampico, who submitted a statement beyond describing the findings of the slain men.

A member of the crew of the Trinidadian, who asked that his name be withheld, he made frequent trips to Mexico, asserted that investigations made by the consul at Tampico and other Americans, established that the men were killed by Mexican federal soldiers. He asserted that a bullet extracted from Boies' foot proved to be a type used only by federal troops in that district.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Employment of a force of 2500 watchmen to guard 60,000,000 gallons of liquor held in government bonded warehouses is planned by the internal revenue bureau to protect the liquor against theft. Prohibition commissioners are expected to ask Congress make $2,000,000 available for establishing of the guard.

Plans for the final disposition of the liquor has been determined on by the bureau. Kremer told the committee, adding that the permissive withdrawal after constitutional prohibition becomes effective would be so few as not to pay the expense for maintaining the guard.

Congress, he suggested, may be asked to solve the problem of disposing of the liquor, and committee members suggested its concentration in a few places. Such a plan of concentration, Kremer said, is being considered by the bureau officials.

Seventy-five thefts have been reported from the warehouses in the last few months, despite iron doors and bars, the commissioner said.

Shuttles who own the liquor were said by the commissioner to be pressing the bureau for an increased guard because they are compelled under the bond to pay $40 a gallon for withdrawals, and thefts come within this provision.

Mechanic Shot by Marine; Probe On

VALLEJO, Jan. 15.—An investigation is on today into the shooting of C. N. Prasinos, a machinist's helper, by a navy yard marine yesterday, as the former was fleeing the latter's way. He is under arrest in the naval hospital pending the investigation of charges that he was trying to get away with stolen material when arrested. The marine says he refused to talk.

John Dodge, Builder of Automobiles, Dies

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—John Dodge of Detroit, automobile manufacturer, died here last night from pneumonia. Dodge, who with his brother, Horace, came here to attend the automobile show. They were both stricken with influenza, which in each case developed into pneumonia. Horace Dodge is said by his physicians to be out of danger.

Political Field

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Herbert Hoover was declared last night by Julius Barnes, his close associate and friend, to be a "progressive republican," who "will never allow himself to be a candidate for high office, nor allow his friends to make an effort in his behalf, unless there shall come such insubstantial evidence of such spontaneous and universal popular demand that it will overwhelm his present resolution not to enter politics."

Referring to reports that Hoover might be a democratic presidential candidate, Barnes said: "As a life long republican, I am re-assured to believe that only one conceivable development could place him on the democratic ticket, in spite of all that has appeared in the recent past. I believe that Hoover's demand for 'progressive ideas' may be conducted by the party to adopt a non-progressive platform and to nominate candidates of reaction."

HAYS DECLINES TO COMMENT ON HOOVER

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, who arrived here today for a conference with Nevada party leaders, refused to comment on the launching of the Hoover-for-President boom in New York last night.

"I've got to remain neutral," he said smilingly when asked by the United Press representative for a statement concerning the prospective candidacy of Herbert C. Hoover on the Republican ticket. "All that I can say is what I've said before, 'my business is to elect, not to select candidates.'"

Asked his opinion of the possible effect on the Republican platform of Hoover's demand for "progressive ideas," Hays countered enigmatically: "that's so, is it?"

A luncheon will be given at the Riverside hotel here today with the national chairman as the honor guest. He will return to San Francisco tonight en route to Southern California.

DAKOTA DEBATES MAY BE DONE BY PROXY

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Jan. 15.—Candidates for presidential nomination under the new primary law of South Dakota must accept challenges to their policies by the opponents, but the debate itself may be conducted by proxy. This interpretation of the law was made today by state officials in connection with the challenge to debate recently sent to President Wilson by James O. Monroe of Chicago, both of whom are candidates for the Democratic

EDITORIAL

We wish to call your special attention to our January handbag sale now in effect.

If you have had any experience in the past in attending these sales, you know about what to expect. We have reduced a large proportion of our stock and some of the reductions are especially interesting.

With merchandise so hard to procure in the wholesale market, sales such as these have not been as usual. However, we feel that we must maintain the public's interest in the department of handbags and from an advertising standpoint we believe that this January sale, although it may be costly to us, will in the long run be of sufficient advertising value to warrant any small losses we may sustain.

You can get a good idea of these reductions by looking at our windows.

Every once in a while you have used a black paint for something and a bottle of Blacko (which never dries up) is just as necessary to have around as a hammer or a saw.

Blacko comes in a good-sized bottle, with a brush, for 25c.

THE ONE BEST PLASTER FOR A BACKACHE

Klenzol Dissolves the Grease—Easy to Use

Every once in a while you hear someone say that it is dangerous to use grease-removing fluids around a fire and especially inside of a house.

This is true of gasoline and is probably true of a steady demand for a 65c plaster and we presume that our customers figure that they would rather pay 65c and get the plaster than to pay 65c and get an inferior plaster.

It is disagreeable enough to have to wear a plaster without sticking yourself up with a poor one and we would therefore suggest that the next time you have a backache that you use Klenzol, which will certainly relieve your trouble quicker than the cheaper kinds and which we think will be well worth the investment.

THE BEST TOOTH BRUSH AND OUR BEST TOOTH POWDER

Those who take pride in their teeth will be interested in a combination of a tooth brush and a tooth powder which dentists have recommended most highly.

We refer to the Lister Tooth Brush, selling at 25c, and the Lister Tooth Powder, selling at 25c.

The brushes are imported and are of the very best bristles. These brushes are set in tufts sufficiently far apart and so placed as to reach into the depressions of the teeth, cleaning them thoroughly. The tooth powder has a faculty of not only cleaning the teeth and destroying germs and other foreign matters that lodge between the teeth, but also of healing the gums.

We feel certain that anyone who will faithfully use this powder with a Lister Brush will find that his teeth have been reduced to their natural state and added to the beauty of his teeth in a most noticeable manner.

The tooth powder has been made to fill the demand from people who are looking for a laxative that has no disagreeable after effects. 25c a box.

OUR BEST TALCUM POWDER

Several years ago we decided to make a talcum powder of our own and we instructed our chemists to make up, from the best ingredients obtainable, the best talcum powder that could be manufactured.

The result of their efforts was Vergo Violet Talcum which we sell at 25c.

This talcum has an attractive violet odor and is a great favorite among all of our friends who have tried it.

If you are looking for an unusually good kind of talcum and are willing to pay 25c a can for the same, you will probably find what you are looking for if you ask for this special brand. Price 25c.

LYNWOOD HOT WATER BOTTLES

You would be surprised if you knew the number of people who come into our store for this good word for Lynwood Hot Water Bottles.

Labor Mourns Loss of Thomas Westoby

Resolutions of sympathy on the death of Thomas Westoby, financial secretary and treasurer of the Building Trades Council of Alameda county, have been adopted by the council and affiliated unions and sent to his family. Westoby had been for many years a leader in organized labor. The resolutions say in part: "That in the death of Thomas Westoby labor loses one of its most valued workers and the entire community has lost a valuable citizen, an earnest laborer for the right, and one that always maintained the finest qualities of citizenship and patriotism and love for his fellow-men."

GIRL'S DEATH HELD DUE TO ANESTHETIC

MODESTO, Jan. 15.—An anesthetic or a natural cause is believed by authorities here to have been the cause of the death of Myrtle Helm, age 19, who was found dead under a bed in the Waterford Hotel Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. McKenna, colored owners of the hotel and Carl Nickerson, cook, were questioned today by Sheriff R. L. Dallas and District Attorney W. J. Brown. Brown said the trial would be held after the inquest, which will be held Friday.

A report received by Coroner H. J. Wood from Dr. Lynwood Loefer of Stockton, who analyzed the contents of the dead girl's stomach, shows that the stomach contained a quantity of quinine.

Wood said he believes death was due to an overdose of chloroform. Sheriff Dallas, who has conducted a further examination of the girl's death, declared that he believes she may have died from pruritus.

The report of one of the guests that he heard the girl sobbing in her room the night before the body was found, lends credence to the natural death theory.

J. M. Helm, father of the dead girl, arrived here yesterday and is leading the investigation. He said he adopted the girl when she was 10 months old, and that she was the daughter of a Mrs. Snyder, living in Lakeside. The whereabouts of her father is unknown.

District Attorney Brown said last night that he is convinced that Miss Helm's death was due to the anesthetic administered for the purpose of an illegal operation and that he is going to bend his efforts to find the physician and assistant who are supposed to have attended the operation.

OAKLAND YOUNG MAN WILLING TO APPEAR

Dr. Stanley Berry, 70 Stanley street, Oakland, brother-in-law of Raymond Jackson, 19 years old, graduate of the Chico high school, whose name has been brought up in connection with the case of Miss Helm, said yesterday that young Jackson had not seen Miss Helm since last April, and only two or three times before that. There had been some correspondence between Jackson and Miss Helm, Dr. Berry said, but no engagement existed between the couple.

Jackson, according to Dr. Berry, first learned of his supposed connection with the case when he saw his name in despatches from Modesto printed in local newspapers.

Chief of Police J. L. Lynch of Oakland said yesterday that he had received no instructions from Modesto to hold Jackson. He said that Jackson and Dr. Berry visited his office yesterday afternoon and Jackson said he would surrender himself at any time that Chief Lynch wanted him.

WIFE TAKES ROAD WITH GYPSY URGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—"The Gypsy blood in me is strong. I must be on the road once more."

These words, written by Mrs. Mildred LeBaron Stih, fortune teller at the Exposition in 1915, appeared in the San Francisco Chronicle in connection with the case of her son, who was charged with the murder of a woman.

They were married at Santa Rosa in June of the Exposition year. In October, 1917, they parted in Idaho and Mrs. Stih came to San Francisco to study in a nurses' training school.

She wrote him, he says, a number of letters in which she pleaded that he allow her a divorce. In the letter she said:

"I cannot say I have not cared for you, or do not now care for you because I do. But Fred, I cannot rest any longer. The Gypsy blood in me is too strong. I must be on the road once more. It seems as if I would die here. I am not good nor brave, only just a Gypsy, not contented not satisfied. I know you are too good a man to do otherwise."

Collector to Supply Income Tax Forms

Deputy Collector A. T. McDonough, in charge of the Oakland office, announced today that on January 22 he will have a supply of classified forms for income tax returns for 1919 available for distribution. He stated, however, that all individuals who had returns for 1918 year will receive forms by mail although taxpayers have until March 15 to file their returns.

Deputy Collector Preble said that taxpayers who file their returns as soon as possible in order to avoid the rush which inevitably comes during the last few days of the filing period. He also urges returns in full, not in installments, and mentioned that the 1919 returns are due on the 15th of each month.

Miss Wolfe Met Foul Play, Sister's Theory

A theory that her sister may have fallen off a ferry boat, was advanced today by the third wife of the late Miss Wolfe, who was found dead Tuesday in the bay near Bay Farm Island.

The sister, Miss Wolfe, was a well-known figure in the community and was believed to have been foul play. The police of Alameda and San Francisco have been asked to make a thorough investigation. A brother, Arthur Wolfe, lived on the body yesterday at the Alameda mortuary and made arrangements for the funeral.

GOMPERS FIGHTING TO RETAIN LEADERSHIP OF LABOR, BAKER WRITES

Unrest Seethes Among Federation Rank and File, With Radicals Striving for Control.

By RAY STANNARD BAKER
(Copyright, 1920, by New York Evening Post, Inc.)
ARTICLE VI.

It is now important, if we are really to understand what is going on, to inquire what are the massed forces behind the present industrial struggle. For this steel strike, this coal strike, big as they are, are only skirmishes in a far-flung battle line; and we cannot understand them unless we know the grand strategy of the conflict, the diverse factions within both camps and who the real commanders are.

Samuel Gompers is the type-figure of American labor; he is the most powerful and dominating leader American labor ever had, but he is today in great trouble. In this respect Gompers resembles most other leaders in the world. All leaders are in trouble. Wilson is in trouble, so is Lloyd George. And for a simple reason: followers won't follow. Public life has got out of bounds; they won't stay in old party lines nor yet in old union lines; they challenge authority and discipline. They strike at institutions.

Gompers is one of the extraordinary men of America today, not only the arch-type of a movement, but a character, a personage.

WILLIAM GLIMPSE OBTAINED. I shall never forget one vivid glimpse I had of him in London last year. He was going down in some triumph as a great figure to visit his birthplace in the slums of the East End. Here it was that his Dutch-Jewish parents had lived; here he learned his trade as a cigarmaker. Here as a boy he spoke low Dutch. He was now striding down the street, a powerful square figure, followed, a step behind, by a looming bodyguard of labor leaders. He was scattering the assembled and gaping crowds of King George, however well insured to the sight of potentates, to the right and left. His hat was set well back upon his head, his chin was thrust forward and he was throwing aside humorous remarks to his followers. So I saw him once again in Paris. So he strode full-fronted throughout Europe so sure of himself and of his entire equipment of ideas, so conscious of the immense power of American labor behind him, that he scattered to the right and left all Utopian schemes; he urged labor to ask for specific things and a little at a time, better to be paid and to be paid, and to clinch what they got with "collective bargains" with employers. If anything was desired for Congress or Legislature, he was to get it, by lobbying or by pleading candidates.

I speak of Gompers as doing these things; he was, of course, only one of many leaders who represented the main recent years of American labor organization.

There was a practical, hard-headed policy, and it has had a great influence in improving the material conditions to hitherto highly skilled groups of labor. Many of the craft unions and other powerful unions are rich. They have fine halls and office buildings, some have hospitals and homes, some have pension and benefit funds. The A. F. of L. itself has a magnificent home with a skyscraper type at Washington—a very different place indeed from the cluttered little back office where I first called on Gompers twenty years ago.

DEFINITE TYPES CHOSEN. Like all successful movements, labor organization in America has tended to be organized into definite types. There are two main types, the church of labor, and Gompers is the Pope of it.

The leaders are of a very definite type—practical, efficient, unimaginative business men. A group of labor leaders of successful craft unions cannot be distinguished today from any ordinary group of American business men. They are business men and many employers have found them more than a match. They are traders; they meet and haggle over minute details of agreements; they work out complicated contracts; they handle and invest considerable sums of money. The American labor movement, so far as it is typified by Gompers, has the reputation of being the most conservative labor body in the world—as it undoubtedly is. It reached its very apex of power and honor during the war. It came as strongly to the support of the war effort as any Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade. Gompers served on the Council of National Defense and other labor leaders were used and honored in many ways.

All this vigorous and successful development, of course, has not been without strong opposition. At every convention of the American Federation of Labor for years before the war Gompers had a fierce struggle for control with the radical or Socialist left wing of the movement—but always won out. Gompers has fought Socialism tooth and nail ever since the result that in America the old craft union leaders still dominate the movement, while in England Socialists are in control.

THE RADICALS COMPLAINED. The radicals charge that the policy of the American Federation of Labor has been too narrow, too strictly economic; that it has no socialistic aim; that it is essentially aristocratic; that it has built up and protected the skilled crafts, but tended to neglect the great masses of unskilled, or foreign, or negro labor. The progressives say that better hours and more wages are not enough; that these things will never finally content the spirit of the worker; that he must strive for what many of them call, often vaguely, "industrial democracy."

All of these charges have some basis in fact. The number of members in the A. F. of L. has increased in a very small percentage of the total number of workers. The last census showed over 27,000,000 wage earners in America, including agricultural laborers, domestic servants and other non-industrial groups. But of this 27,000,000 fewer than 8 per cent. were in labor organizations affiliated with Gompers' Federation. Several of the most important industries, where unskilled or foreign labor was largely employed, were left almost untouched—like the steel industry, the textile mills, the oil industry, and others. On the other hand, the mine workers, with many unskilled and foreign laborers, are firmly organized and affiliated with the A. F. of L.; so are the hod carriers.

This situation gave opportunity for the Socialists and radical labor organizations like the I. W. W. to come in. I was at the Lawrence strike in 1912. Here there were several small, aristocratic craft unions, but no attention had been paid to the masses of the foreign workers until the I. W. W. leaders came in with their doctrine that the interests of the whole working class, foreigners and unskilled as well as Americans and skilled, were identical—that there should be one great union and one place for every worker in the industrial organization. The idea carried like wildfire, as it has in other industries. Right or wrong, it was a ray of hope to thousands of neglected and unpaid and overworked human beings.

ANOTHER CHARGE MADE. Another charge brought by the progressives was that the skilled craft unions, strongly organized, could make advantageous bargains with the equally strong employers' associations and nullify the public. That is, the union, having a monopoly on labor, could force up wages and the employers, having a monopoly on the product, could force up prices—and the public would have to pay it. I made a study some years ago of several of the most important of this sort of bargaining under the title "Capital and Labor Hunt Together." The public pays high for both kinds of monopoly. And the future of all in this system, as the great masses of workers are now being made over, is that the "public" is made up very largely of the immense wage-earning class in America that is not in any union and is thus unprotected, in short, the masses of the unskilled, the foreign, the negroes help pay for the good fortune, the high wages and the short hours of the highly skilled organized workers.

This aristocratic unionism—as they call it—has called attention to their craft interests, but, as for the masses of labor, furnishes the chief ammunition of the Socialists and the radicals of the I. W. W. type in their attacks upon Gompers and the American Federation of Labor. They also give powerful impetus to those in the labor ranks (many of them Socialists) who want what they call a "real" labor movement and therefore recommend a national labor party in America. They say that the American Federation of Labor has no genuine reconstructive program like the British labor movement, and that it is controlled by a kind of political machine, headed by Gompers, which is impervious to new ideas or new methods; that it is old, rich, unscrupulous, and no longer depends to the real aspirations of labor. I am trying here to put down the situation just as it looks from a new angle. To be able to estimate the seriousness of the present unrest we must first of all face it in its own terms.

Now, several recent tendencies have served to throw more power into the hands of the radicals. In the first place, there has been the loss of the drift in American industry toward the employment of a greater proportion of unskilled men. Employers have introduced machinery and divided the tasks of labor so that each workman has, so far as possible, only one simple manipulative task to learn and to be paid for. This has been the result of the skill of the craftsman. Any foreigner, no matter how ignorant, any negro, can quickly learn to do much of the work in many of the greatest of our industries. This tends to defeat the whole idea of the old unionism, based upon craft skill, especially as it appeals to the great basic industries.

Other more immediate tendencies have developed out of the war. Since 1914 all Americans have been more interested than ever before in Europe and in European movements; and especially the workers. Among foreigners the Russian Revolution has had a profound influence; among the more moderate and thoughtful groups the program of the British Labor party. I have found in talking with labor men of all kinds and classes and in the knowledge of these foreign movements. Ten years ago, except for a few Socialists, American workers had little idea of anything beyond the horizon of American methods and American ideas.

LABOR COURTIED IN WAR. Another vital influence may be noted. This is the awakening self-consciousness of labor to its own power, dignity, indispensability, which came with the war. Labor was courted as never before, taken into government councils as never before, made to feel that in the future it would enjoy greater privileges than ever before. It came out of the war feeling that it had served well, done all that was expected of it, and was now entitled to the promised rewards.

New and enthusiastic campaigns for the organization of hitherto more or less unorganized industries, like the packing houses and the steel mills, were begun. Whole new groups of workers began to come into the ranks of "organized" labor—actors, school teachers, newspaper reporters, architects, nurses—and the wave even swept in many groups of government or public service employees—politicians, policemen, clerks and the like. The most powerful and able led unions in the country—the railroad brotherhoods—came forward with an ambitious plan, the Plumb plan, for the future control of the railroads. A strong movement was launched for the organization of a new labor party to carry the whole struggle into the political field, and later the steel industry and other articles and finally a sudden but enthusiastic interest sprung up in developing wholesale and retail co-operative stores on the English plan.

This sudden burst of new self-consciousness on the part of labor, new enthusiasm, new organization, has been met by a double blow both from employers and from the government. "They taught us to be lions' whelps during the war," as one leader said, "and now they want us to submit to a reign of terror." "We shall never do it," said Gompers and the A. F. of L. are unsympathetic toward most of the new movements, that all vital thinking and new leadership is frowned on by Gompers and the A. F. of L. does not believe in a labor party, nor in the Plumb plan, nor in the demands for more "socialization" in industry, and later the steel industry and other articles and finally a sudden but enthusiastic interest sprung up in developing wholesale and retail co-operative stores on the English plan.

Thus Gompers, with the wonderful machine he has built up, finds himself attacked upon all sides. A labor party movement, begun scarcely a year ago and led by men in his own group, is spreading like wildfire. There were never so many unauthoritative and uncontrollable strikes as there have been recently. Gompers advises the steel workers to delay their strike until the President is questioned; but they paid no attention to him. There have been powerful and successful insurgent unions—like the Amalgamated Clothing Workers—growing up outside the Federation. He excommunicates them, but it does no good.

ASSOCIATION CIRCUMBLES. And finally, to cap the climax, the association with government industries formed during the war, which Gompers and the A. F. of L. felt to be such a bulwark of strength, has suddenly crumbled to pieces. It is no longer looked to and courted as an supreme arbiter and spokesman of labor. He could not even prevent the government from enjoining the coal miners.

Thus the whole great world of labor in America is in a new ferment, stirred to its depths as it never was before.

As regards the tendencies now appearing, they may be divided into three great groups:

- (1) The old conservative unionism of the A. F. of L. led by Gompers. While this group is wholeheartedly loyal to the A. F. of L. and its radical position, Gompers, for example, finds himself now attacked by an employer, Gary, and a politician, Foran, for just the kind of radicalism he has been fighting all his life.
- (2) The new progressive group. This is mostly made up of the left wing within the A. F. of L. which has been fighting Gompers for years. It has now formed a National Labor Party, with a program much more radical, more socialistic than that of the A. F. of L. No one knows yet how strong this movement is, but from what I saw at the convention in Chicago, I should judge that it would take very little to precipitate a considerable number of the workers of America into radical political action.
- (3) The revolutionary groups. The chief of these is the I. W. W., but there are a number of others, many of them led by communists, especially among the foreign elements. In total numbers this element is relatively small and divided up into many warring factions.

Labor unrest exists, profound change in alignments and leadership is going on. New and more radical men are coming to the front. Much will depend on how this movement is treated by employers and political leaders. If it is indiscriminately attacked, if every leader who proposes a plan or advances an idea not approved from above is called a "Bolshevik," or arrested and clapped into jail, or deported, the result will be to drive the whole movement toward a more radical position and more revolutionary tendencies; if it is met with understanding and if there is evidence of desire for co-operation, there are possibilities of a new constructive epoch in American industry. Many such patient attempts at better understanding and co-operation are now being made by both managers and men—I shall later tell of some of them—but there are also abroad wild councils of force which do not even try to understand what is happening and which tend to break down all the agencies of reasonableness and conciliation and make for the very revolution which they think they are preventing.

(In the next article Baker will exhibit the groups and tendencies upon the other side, among the employer-capitalist class.)

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The American Chamber of Commerce in London has cabled to Washington a plea for the early ratification of the peace treaty. It was announced today by Secretary Frothingham.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost, to free the blood of this irritating acid, because weak from the overwork they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night, when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active. Advertisement.

Easy to Make This Pine Cough Remedy

Thousands of families swear by its prompt relief for colds, coughs, and croup.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and sugar. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, but may be persistent, long, from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—irritated membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated concentrated concentrate of pure pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your doctor or pharmacist for Pinex, with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BROKEN TIES BLAMED FOR ERRING GIRLS

Broken homes were the primary cause for girls being brought to the attention of the probation officers, Mrs. Mary F. Quayle, of the girls' department, told the Big Sisters of the Public Welfare League yesterday. The secondary cause she offered is the lack of understanding between parents and daughters. More girls are on probation at the present time than in two years and fewer are in the institutions, Mrs. Quayle's records show that 137 girls are on probation from the juvenile court, with numbers under her care who had not been brought before that body. She made an appeal to the Big Sisters to assist in properly clothing these girls as a step toward their rehabilitation.

WORK DEFENDED. That many probation officers in California have been injudiciously chosen and that the number of cases coming before the juvenile court in Alameda county, is neither increasing nor decreasing, were statements by O. P. Snedigar, chief probation officer.

Snedigar declared that Alameda county was foremost in the endeavor to apply scientific methods to offenders, basing the disposal of every upon mental, nervous and physical tests and not depending wholly on various aid societies for disposal.

STATISTICS REVIEWED. He championed a movement which should remove from the jurisdiction of the juvenile court the charity end having to do with the dependent child. Reviewing probable statistics in this county, Snedigar asserted that the juvenile court officers averaged 150 charges, whereas fifty were considered by authorities to be a maximum number. According to his figures 450 children are on probation, with an additional 750 committed to institutions, 325 of whom are destitute cases, boarded largely in private homes.

Snedigar warned the women that volunteer workers who did not appreciate the situation of the boy or girl and who offered patronage instead of sincere sympathy, did more harm than good.

Fifteen Admirals to Tell of Awards

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Fifteen admirals, named by Chairman Hale of the Senate naval sub-committee, are investigating naval decorations awards, are among those Secretary Daniels has been asked to summon as witnesses, before the committee to testify in the investigation which began Monday.

The list is headed by Admiral Sims, who brought the controversy over naval awards into the open by declining to accept a "Distinguished Service Medal" on the ground that war honors had not been properly distributed in the navy. He will probably be the first witness called.

After the admirals have testified, commanding officers of naval vessels sunk or seriously damaged by submarine attack during the war probably will be called before the committee.

Flying Matter of Health: Ruth Law

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Women should fly as a matter of health, Miss Ruth Law, aviatrix, said in an address at the aeronautical show at the Coliseum today.

"Within a few years," she said, "every physician will own a machine or an interest in a machine so that he can send his patients who have a clogged lung up to a height of 10,000 feet instead of sending them west."

"Daily trips to an altitude where the air is curative will be less expensive than trips to western mountains. Nervous women should fly. Nothing is so refreshing as a spin in a flying machine."

Oakland Editor Held for U. S. Court Trial

J. E. Snyder, publisher of the World, formerly the organ of the Communist Labor party, was held for trial by Federal Judge Frank S. Dietrich in San Francisco, following the overruling of the demurrer to the federal grand jury indictment in which Snyder was charged with the publication of defamatory articles against the government and the constitution. Judge Dietrich held that the articles in question were of a scurrilous character, of a nature that should not be tolerated even in times of peace.

The children marched from the train to a warehouse at the docks, where they were fed under arrangements in charge of the Socialists.

AT WHAT AGE ARE WOMEN MOST INTERESTING?

Miss Frances Wilson Picks Thinking Woman

By JANE DIXON.

"A woman is most interesting when she thinks. It does not matter if she is only 16. Before she begins to think for herself, and after she has become set in her ways and hence ceased thinking, she is not so attractive, at least to another woman."—Miss Frances Wilson.

And last of all—a woman. Yes, we are going to give her the final word on that question of questions, which men, assistant district attorneys, permitted to discuss heretofore. It can be changed a trifle: At what age does a woman think that women are most interesting?

"That takes something for granted—of course. Does a woman ever think that another woman is interesting enough to deserve the superlative, 'most'? Men who are inclined to be sarcastic about women may doubt it. And women may be found who will doubt it—even so.

But anyway we made up our mind to try it. So we called on Miss Frances Wilson, assistant district attorney, who is a woman of many parts. Miss Wilson is not the ordinary woman, by any means. She has a trained mind and can express herself quickly and cleverly. When we arrived she was pouring over law books and manuscripts in criminal cases and wanted to know if we sought information about the grand jury. Assured that nothing so commonplace was the subject of this interview, her smile became even more gracious. She was duly informed of its precise nature.

ADVANTAGES CONCEDED. "Well, that is a hard question for a woman," she exclaimed. "What do you know more about than we do, naturally. We're not so likely to think about it anyway."

"From a woman's viewpoint, though," she persisted. "What women do you enjoy talking with most, on the whole, women of what age?"

"My own age, naturally," she said. "This was difficult to fathom, being so wholly true. Truth is hard to batter down, no matter what some of our mendacious citizens may believe."

Miss Wilson, however, was disposed kindly to help us out. She began to have ideas on the subject.

"We will take the various ages," she began. "The high school girl—she is too unformed to be interesting. Too much the child; active, of course, but not appealing to mentally. Then the college girl is too blonde. She thinks that she knows about all there is to know. Life is so hard to her, it is so hard to batter down, no matter what some of our mendacious citizens may believe."

Miss Wilson, however, was disposed kindly to help us out. She began to have ideas on the subject.

Life is so hard to her, it is so hard to batter down, no matter what some of our mendacious citizens may believe."

is a young man or a young woman. But to fill the exact requirements of the word interesting, that is different.

DIFFERS WITH PASTOR. "If I were to put my opinion in a few words, I would say that a woman is most interesting when she thinks. It does not matter if she is only 16. Before she begins to think for herself, and after she has become set in her ways and hence ceased thinking, she is not so attractive to another woman."

"I do not agree with Rev. Mr. Slesley that a woman is most interesting when she is 'twenty-five and a mother. All mothers are much alike, whether they are wives of street cleaners or of capitalists. The mother instinct is always the same. To men it may be an interesting age because then women to them are the most incomprehensible, but it is not so to other women."

"A man, ordinarily, does not like so much the woman who is developed. They want one who is young, plump and uneducated."

MEN DISLIKE CONFLICT. "I have observed the case with women in offices. When a man enters, he is attracted to the woman who greets him in a sweet, unassuming way. If she is brisk or brusque or detached in manner, he does not care for her. The woman who is settled in life is likely to bring an element of conflict and the man does not want that."

Now, then, we have had the opinions of men in many walks of life, in the lines of the artist and in the business realm, and of one woman. The ideas as to the precise age at which a woman is most interesting have varied widely. One point of similarity, however, we trust that every reader of this series has noted—the high ideals that a man holds as to womankind. At any rate, it is never known.

SHIPYARDS WIN FREIGHT FIGHT

Shipyards of the Pacific coast are victors in their long, concerted fight for a better freight rate on steel from eastern mills, according to advices just received from Washington.

The contest, declared vital to the interests of Pacific yards, banded together eighteen of the largest plans, the chambers of commerce of many cities and members of congress from California, Oregon and Washington.

The following telegram from Senator Tholan has been received by L. R. Bishop, chairman of the Pacific Coast Shipbuilders' Traffic Association:

"Freight rate authority just been issued making 20 percent reduction on ship steel from eastern producing points to the Pacific coast, resulting in rates of $1 from Pittsburgh, 80 cents from Chicago and corresponding rates from other points. This rate to be effective about February 25."

A discrimination against the coast yards, in favor of export trade, was charged. In bidding for new business after the war, the shipyards were hampered by a rate of $1.25 per hundredweight from Pittsburgh, and $1.37½ from Atlantic coast points. For an 800-ton steamer the freight alone was $80,000.

When steel was for export, however, the rate across the continent was only 60 cents. Another 60 cents across the Pacific, and the Japanese were receiving steel for less than American yards on this coast.

"The new rate is a wonderful victory for the coast," said Bishop today. "It takes away much of the handicap under which coast shipyards worked, and allows them to compete for new business. It means continued prosperity for the yards and all the communities near the yards, from Seattle to Los Angeles."

WOMAN WHO KILLED SELF FLU VICTIM

After spending the day alone in her room, Mrs. Belle Casselbohm, 47, living at 182 Twelfth, placed the muzzle of a revolver in her mouth and fired the shot that ended her life late yesterday.

According to Mrs. J. J. Valentine, the mother of the dead woman, Mrs. Casselbohm stayed in her room all day from early morning, looking at herself in a mirror. The other women in the house, who were breaking into the room, found her daughter lying in front of a full-length mirror. The young woman was taken to the Emergency hospital where she died.

COUGHING, WEAK AND RUNDOWN AFTER FLU

Regained Flesh and Strength Quickly, and Tells How.

"I nearly died from the last October and it left me with a terrible cough. The doctor gave me one bottle of medicine after another, but it did me no good. Went to Charlotte, N. C., and took treatment of a specialist without any permanent benefit."

"I saw Milks Emulsion advertised and started using it. It had helped me right from the start. I had no appetite and my stomach was in bad shape. But it bottles have straightened me out entirely. I eat anything without distress, my cough is gone and I have gained back my strength and flesh."—Emma Withers, Box 50, Belmont, N. C.

"I don't trifle with a weak, run-down condition. It leaves you open to serious diseases and robs your strength back. Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try."

"Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritious food and a powerful medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all kinds of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repelling the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day."

"This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream."

"No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with results your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Emulsion is distributed by all druggists."

To Have Perfect Skin Throughout the Winter

There is nothing more beautiful than a clear, smooth, and glowing complexion. To have such a complexion in the winter months is a real achievement. It is not difficult to obtain, however, if you use the right kind of skin cream. The skin cream should be of the rich, creamy type, and should be applied to the face every night before going to bed. It should also be applied to the face every morning before getting up. This will keep the skin soft and supple, and will prevent the dry, cracked, and chapped skin so common in the winter months. Nevada Republicans Meet Hays at Reno Luncheon to Discuss Campaign Problem

Nevada Republicans assembled in Reno today in conference with William Hays, national chairman of the party, to discuss the campaign problems as they affect that State. Hays was attended to Reno by a delegation of California party leaders, who also attended the conference. One public meeting was held at the Nevada metropolis at a luncheon at noon today. County delegations from all parts of Nevada, and a number of interested persons, particularly planning for a general session this evening.

Chairman Hays will return tomorrow and then go to Los Angeles. The Hays and means committee will confer at Los Angeles with a group of southern Republicans. Before returning to Washington Hays is to be the guest for a few days of S. A. Perkins, Washington State National Committeeman, at the latter's winter home at Santa Barbara.

Before the week is over Hays will have announced the personnel of the committee of state chairmen, and members of the party, east and west, who are to make suggestions for the party platform. Five members of the national committee will be members of this group. The committee include both men and women representative of employers, labor, agriculture, religious bodies, educational institutions and other divisions of society.

More than half a thousand persons attended the luncheon to Hays at the Union League club before his departure for Reno. John L. McNab presided. Hays emphasized the need of the "best brains and best hearts" in the country giving their attention to national affairs, particularly at this moment. In part, he said:

"Do you know that in New York City the Republican State committee got up a list of those whose station in life made it seem probable that they could and would contribute to the Republican cause? The list runs, the maximum of which is $1000 a year under our rules? There were 8000 names on that list. We took the list to the registration office to make sure all were Republicans and can you believe that more than 5000 names on that list were of persons who had never registered to vote?"

"It is up to the men and women of the Nation to give more attention to their country's affairs. You are stockholders in the greatest corporation in the world, with more influence over your life and the lives of your children's children than anything else in the world, and you owe it as a patriotic duty to pay strict attention to the practical politics of your Nation."

SHIP WORK GAINS, POWELL ASSERTS

That the recent strike has resulted in doing away with union restrictions on output and has broken up the onerous rules of the unions as to the handling of the cargo, the assertion yesterday of J. W. Powell, vice-president of Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., who is visiting in the bay cities.

HANDICAP FACED.

Commenting on labor conditions on the Pacific coast, Powell in part, said: "Before the strike, Bethlehem had decided it could not afford to build ships in its two yards on San Francisco bay at any increase over the May wage scale. We were faced by a freight handicap of over $100,000 on a 10,000-ton ship. The wage increase, together with the labor inefficiency, amounted to a large additional handicap. The answer, the chance showing an advantage for the bay region, duplicate ships were being more clearly constructed in Bethlehem's eastern yards."

"Now this condition has changed. We have the Macy scale still in effect and we are already driving more rivets per gang hour than before the strike. The temper, discipline and willingness of our men to work have no improved that we shall be able to equal our former output of ships with 75 per cent the man power we had on our rolls on September 30."

"The better production per man that we can now achieve means more ships to build on this coast, and I shall go east feeling that we can take orders for our yards here as fast as they are prepared to handle the work."

Mills College Votes On Referendum

In a vote on the question of treaty ratification, the students and faculty of Mills College last night at a special treaty referendum assembly, favored as a slight majority the demand of President Wilson for ratification of the treaty against the opposition of William J. Three-Year-Old Boy Fights for Millions

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Attorneys today prepared briefs which submitted to support arguments in the suit in behalf of Henry Anthony Marsh, three-year-old son of Peggy Marsh, chorus girl, and Henry Field, Chicago millionaire.

The suit will determine whether or not the child is entitled to participate in a $5,000,000 trust fund established by Marshall Field's will, which he declared had been divided between the three grandchildren, or their "issue."

Peggy Marsh has already received $100,000 from Marshall Field III, paid shortly after the death of Henry Field.

BANQUET PLANNED TO HELP SCOUTS

Seventy-five Oakland men who are interested in boys and their welfare are asked to make up the Oakland quota of 75 at the banquet to be given at the Hotel Shattuck in Berkeley on Thursday evening, January 27. The banquet is to be held in connection with the Boy Scout convention and David P. Barrows, president of the University of California, and James E. West, head of the Boy Scouts in America, are to be the speakers.

This is a mighty important banquet and is of vital interest to all men who are interested in boys and their welfare," explained H. J. Bemiss, head of the Oakland Scouts. "Oakland has an allotment of 75 seats and we are going to throw them open to the public in order that all men who are interested in this work may have an opportunity to attend. Reservations can be made by calling Oakland 637."

Five Rodeo Men Get War Crosses; Record for State

RODEO, Jan. 15. — Statistics just compiled show that five residents of Rodeo were awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for exceptional bravery in action on the battlefield. In point of population this is the record for the state.

In the list of towns and cities given in a table issued at Washington, San Francisco holds the record with 22 awards of the Distinguished Service Cross and two Medal of Honor awards, while its rival, Los Angeles, received 21 D. S. C. and two Medal of Honor awards.

In Alameda county, Berkeley received 4 D. S. C. awards; Hayward, 2; Oakland, 1; Alameda, 2; and San Leandro, 1.

There was a total of 135 awards made to California men.

LOCAL YARDS TO BUILD TEN NEW VESSELS

During December, 1919, private corporations contracted with shipyards of the United States for the construction of 805,147 gross tons of shipping and over eight per cent of this amount will be constructed in local shipyards.

These figures are based on reports made to the Atlantic Coast Shipbuilders' Association in a national survey of the industry. The total tonnage awarded to Eastbay shipyards, according to the table, is 72,700. In this table the assumption is made that all of the contracts awarded to the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation of California during this month will go to the Alameda plant. This probably will be true, it is said, because of the amount of uncompleted work on hand at the Potrero plant of this corporation.

The distribution is: Bethlehem, 52,500 tons; Moore's, 19,000 tons; Union Construction, 1250 tons.

The Bethlehem contracts are: Two 7500-ton tankers for the Standard Oil company of California; three 7500-ton tankers for the Pan-American Petroleum company; and two 7500-ton tankers for the Standard Oil company of New York.

The Moore contracts are: Two 9500-ton freighters for the Matson Navigation company.

The Union Construction company contract is: One 1250-ton tanker for the Standard Oil company.

Besides these the local shipyards have a large amount of uncompleted private contracts secured in previous months as well as a number of uncompleted Emergency Fleet contracts.

Alleged Burglars Held for High Court

Charged with robbing the shoe store of H. Melleson, 615 Fourteenth street, on the night of January 4, John Reposa and James J. Johnstone were held to answer in the court of Acting Police Judge Herbert D. Wise. They were bound over to the Superior court and bail was fixed at $1000 each.

Johnstone is an overseas soldier recently returned from France. They were caught in the act of burglarizing the store by the patrolman on the beat.

PIPE LINE TO DAY OPPOSED IN HUMBOLDT

RICHMOND, Jan. 15.—Determined opposition has been announced to the plans of the Snow Mountain Water and Power Company to divert water from the Bel river in southern Humboldt county to be carried by a pipe line 145 miles in length to Point San Quentin in Marin county for the use of the Eastbay cities. The Eureka Chamber of Commerce has filed protests with the State Water Commission and the United States War Department charging that the waters of Bel river are needed for navigation and irrigation and also that taking a large amount of water from the river at Gravelly Valley will destroy the fisheries at the mouth of the river in Humboldt county.

The Snow Mountain Water and Power Company through one of its chief owners, Attorney E. S. Phillips, has let a contract for the construction of a dam at Gravelly Valley to cost $1,000,000 and has also purchased reservoir sites in Humboldt county. The dam will be 100 feet high and will divert water from the Bel river to a pipe line 145 miles in length to Point San Quentin in Marin county for the use of the Eastbay cities. The Eureka Chamber of Commerce has filed protests with the State Water Commission and the United States War Department charging that the waters of Bel river are needed for navigation and irrigation and also that taking a large amount of water from the river at Gravelly Valley will destroy the fisheries at the mouth of the river in Humboldt county.

Richmond Lodge, No. 1251, B. P. O. Elks, has arranged for a Hawaiian night for the members of the order and women guests to be staged at 10 o'clock last evening and were later given a reception at the home of the bride's relatives on Fourth street. Following a honeymoon they will reside here.

Young Bride Sues Business Man Took Ring, Sent Her East, Plaintiff

THE TRIBUNE maintains an office at 1015 McDonald avenue; telephone Richmond 372. Matter pertaining to the editorial or business departments of the paper will be received there.

RICHMOND, Jan. 15.—Charging that her husband took to the railway depot here and after taking away her wedding and engagement rings induced her to go to Lynn, Mass., and refused to aid her financially or send her money to return home, Mrs. Ida Javien Savin has brought suit for divorce against her husband, Joseph Savin, a local business man. The couple were married at an elaborate ceremony here June 8, 1913, and it was only three weeks after the ceremony that the break-up came.

Mrs. Savin charges that it was necessary to appeal to her parents to secure funds to return to Richmond. Through Pierce & Carlson she has asked for attorney's fees, alimony and a division of property. She is making her home with her parents at Russell avenue and Fourth street.

BIG WINE STOCK PERPLEXED OWNERS.
An announcement has been received that a revenue officer will arrive at the Winehaven plant of the California Wine Association tomorrow to supervise the taking of stock of what is declared to be the largest stock of wines and brandies left in any of the manufacturing liquor plants in California. All the present employees will be kept pending the taking of stock which it is estimated will require at least thirty days.

What future use the $2,000,000 plant of the California Wine Association will be utilized for is not declared. There have been numerous reports that Superintendent Frank Wilson says that the future utilization of the wharves, warehouses, hotel and other large concrete buildings has not been determined.

For the present, Wilson says, the plant will be used to make grape juice and other fruit juices. Saccharine and medicinal wines will also be handled.

COMMISSIONER'S SUBWAY ORDER RESENTED.
There is great resentment here over the decision of the state railroad commission in assessing more than one-half of the costs of the improvements of the Macdonald avenue subway to the City of Richmond and letting the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and the San Francisco and North Beach Railway Company with the remaining 45 per cent. The estimated cost of the work to be done by the city is $27,000. With costs of municipal government mounting steadily, it will be a heavy burden on the city to get that extra $27,000 this year will likely cause a heated discussion at the meeting of the City Council on next Monday evening.

CENSUS DIFFICULTY IS PATCHED UP.
Peace again reigns between the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce on the one side and W. H. Treichler, supervisor of census for the third congressional district, on the other. Treichler arrived here from Sacramento yesterday afternoon and appeared irritated at the action of the local bodies in demanding both from him and the government at Washington by wire that steps to give Richmond a complete census be taken at once.

Treichler promised that as soon as the census returns are in tomorrow evening he will issue an order giving extra time for those enumerators who have not completed their districts. It is expected that at least two additional weeks will be required.

Garrard was one of the pioneer employees of the Standard Oil Company having worked for the company for many years at Franklin Point before coming to Richmond about fifteen years ago.

The resignation takes effect on February 1, when Miss Lynn will enter upon her new duties. She has been here for three years.

F. W. Roeding, agricultural superintendent for the Spring Valley Water company, was a visitor here on Tuesday from San Francisco.

John Miller spent Tuesday in the bay cities shopping.

A score of friends surprised Mr. Hans Menzel at his home near town Tuesday evening by entertaining him in honor of his birthday. The affair was a very pleasant surprise and an enjoyable evening followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Keating have this week moved from San Francisco to their ranch "Willow Glen," near town.

The farmers of this section are taking advantage of the good weather by not only doing much plowing and cultivating, but also putting in considerable grain where the ground is in good condition.

RESTRICT LOANS OF TRUCKS, PLAN

MAYFIELD, Jan. 15.—A determination to obtain laws limiting the size of the loads which motor trucks, running between San Francisco and San Jose, carry over the main thoroughfare in Mayfield was expressed by town trustees at a meeting last night which was attended by a number of representatives of transportation companies.

The trustees took the stand that inasmuch as they were responsible for the upkeep of the highway within the city limits, they had a right to restrict the weight of the loads carried on this particular section.

Two of their number were appointed a committee to look into the matter before the State Highway Commission.

The truckmen declared that overloading and not properly loaded trucks were responsible for the damage done to the highway and that it could be inflicted if a schedule were adopted by the truckmen limiting the weight of the load to the square inch tire pressure.

SLAYER ASKS TO REMAIN IN CELL.
SAN JOSE, Jan. 15.—"Take me to my cell and from this court room take me quick," with this cry Tony Mercurio, charged with the murder of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Francis Mercurio, yesterday broke from his guards in the police court of Judge T. R. Dougherty and rushed toward the doorway leading to the jail.

As he ran his aged mother, from whose tears and cries he sought to escape, sank in a heap on the court room floor, while a weeping sister, with arms outstretched, ran after him.

Mercurio had been taken to court for his preliminary examination, but on the consent of counsel for both sides the hearing was set for January 21.

Wounded Bandit to Go to San Jose.
SAN JOSE, Jan. 15.—Arrangements were being made today for George Hoover, the automobile bandit who was shot down in San Mateo county by a San Francisco detective while speeding through a restaurant hold-up on the scene of a restaurant hold-up in San Mateo, to be taken to the city for medical treatment.

Hoover is now in the Red Cross hospital in San Mateo, where an operation was necessary to remove a bullet from his chest.

Sheriff George W. Lyle states that Hoover is only an assumed name and he is in hopes of clearing up the mystery as to the man's identity.

Stanford Quintet Beats Santa Clara.
SAN JOSE, Jan. 15.—The Stanford University basketball team defeated the Santa Clara University team last night by the score of 21 to 23. FIUME AGREEMENT HALTED BY SLAVS.
PARIS, Jan. 15.—Just at the time when it seemed likely to agree to the acceptance of a solution to the Fiume question, the Fiume agreement was halted by the intervention of the Slav kingdom. Premiers Lloyd George and Clemenceau thereupon issued a joint ultimatum demanding that the Slav kingdom should accept the Fiume agreement or face a categorical answer of "yes" or "no" to the Italian proposition.

It is impossible to ascertain here what the Slav kingdom has decided, but it is believed that the Slav kingdom is consulting regarding the proposed Fiume settlement.

WHAT NEURASTHENIA IS.
Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Constant work, mental or physical, without proper vacation periods, without proper attention to diet and exercise, also worry over the struggle for success, are the most frequent causes. Excesses of almost any kind may produce it. Some diseases, like the grip, will cause neurasthenia. So will a severe shock, intense anxiety or grief.

The symptoms are over-sensitivity, irritability, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, possibly nausea.

Though treatment is one of nutrition of the cells, requiring a good diet, rest, and the use of a tonic, the most important factor in getting your nourishment from the blood is the treatment of the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood, and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenics, is also corrected by these tonic pills.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box by Dr. R. C. Williams, Medicine Co., Box 1009, Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for the free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System."—Advertisement.

TRUCE TOO SOON, SPEAKER ASSERTS

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15.—Speaking before Alameda Post of the American Legion at the flag presentation at the high school auditorium Tuesday, Colonel E. Stanton, former staff officer with General Pershing overseas, told of a conversation with Major General Hunter Liggett on the day the armistice was signed, in which the general said that the armistice should have been delayed six weeks, that then it would have been signed in Berlin, peace would have been greater but the speaker held that the victory would have been more complete and the unrest and upheavals all over the world, and particularly in the United States, would have been kept within strict bounds.

EXPEDITION DESCRIBED
Colonel Stanton told of the trip of a small group of American officers and clerks, the vanguard of the Americans, who went across to get the initial clerical work started. The party was assembled in a rush, to find on arrival in England that the necessary typewriters had been left on the wharf. The New York Government typewriter expenditure was limited to $80 a machine, but Colonel Stanton paid $180 in London to get a machine to work with. He said he would probably have married some one for exceeding his authority. His remarks were unpreparedness for the flag presentation. That in all he had exceeded his authority by some $2,000,000 overseas, and perhaps before he died he would be court-martialed for the surplus subtracted from his salary.

COLOR STAND RECEIVED
The flag presentation was arranged to mark the coming of the post by a group of Alamedans, who know that the post needed a stand of colors. Captain E. V. Orr, commander of the post, could not be present.

Vice-President Homer Spence served as master of ceremonies and Tilden, who made the presentation. Nelson G. Welburn expressed the appreciation of the post for the flag gift. A feature of the post band was also a feature of the reception and union followed the ceremony.

PROFESSOR PLANS ORIENTAL TRIP

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—Determined to give Americans an opportunity to learn the Oriental situation at hand, Dr. S. C. Kiang, linguist, professor of Chinese in the University of California, has obtained a leave of absence from the faculty beginning next summer and arranged to conduct a party through China, Japan, Korea, India and other parts of the East. President David P. Barrows, Professor John Fryer and others of the university have endorsed Dr. Kiang's project.

Dr. Kiang is making a special feature of the trip as an educational one for teachers and professors in particular, and also addressing details of the plan to all of the western colleges and universities. The party is to include two sections, those going for a year and visiting India, and those going for three months, omitting India. In a statement of his purpose, Dr. Kiang says:

"The Far-East questions are becoming very important to the United States but the American remains mysterious and to the American public, except some superficial knowledge, and much misrepresentation. This is a danger to the peoples of the United States and the Pacific and is a responsibility to the educators of these countries."

"During the last few decades China has sent several thousands of students all over the United States and many educational commissions. Japan has done likewise and also the Hindus. On the other hand, we find our Asiatic countries only American diplomats, missionaries, merchants and soldiers; indeed very few educators visit China and Japan for study and investigation. No such exchange has ever been made to these countries."

Dr. Kiang is the American representative of the Hung Tao, or Society for the Diffusion of Chinese Thought. The party is to be organized without profit to him.

BEET GROWERS OPEN SUGAR WAR

Growers of sugar beets in this state, in Oregon and Nevada are looking forward to action in Denver this month that will open a war between the sugar beet men and the refiners and which, it is promised, will reduce the shortage and restore normal prices.

At the Denver convention, which is to be held January 26, beet growers will meet with members of the International Association of Farmers, Union of Nebraska, the Growers, Mountain State Beet Growers' Association, and state granges of Washington and Colorado. An idea of the power of beet and refiners that is to be thrown into the fight may be gained from the fact that more than 120 co-operative associations will have representatives at the meeting.

"The national sugar bowl is in the clutches of a few powerful corporations which are so organized and united as to form a most menacing trust," the call for the meeting reads. Charges are made that the refiners, in the stress of the war, sought and obtained special privileges at the expense of the beet growers.

The object of the convention is stated to be to expand and preserve the industry, reduce the shortage and restore normal prices. Beet farmers will be accepted as delegates.

In connection with the registration in Oakland, it has been found that in 1910 the population of the city was 51,400, greater than the number of minors in the city, which indicated a population for Oakland now of slightly more than 277,000. Using the same ratio for the county registration and entire population the above result showing a total of nearly half a million, is obtained.

In the city of Alameda, with a registration of 7366, the same method would show a population of 27,660.

MODESTO MEN IN WATER PROTEST

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—Headed by the Modesto Chamber of Commerce, a trainload of delegates representing seven farmers' and business men's organizations, will arrive in Berkeley tomorrow night to attend a Hetch-Hetchy protest meeting to be held in the Berkeley high school auditorium. The meeting has been called by the Modesto Chamber of Commerce, which secured special permission of the school board for the use of the hall for the meeting.

Following a meeting of the Board of Trade of Stanislaus county, word was received by wire that the following organizations will send committees to the Berkeley meeting: Modesto Irrigation District, Board of Supervisors of Stanislaus county, Tuolumne River Water Protective Association, Stanislaus County Board of Trade, City Council of Modesto and Stanislaus Public Utilities District.

W. C. Le Hane, attorney for the Modesto Irrigation District, who has brought suits against the City of San Francisco on the Hetch-Hetchy matter, says: "The people of the Hetch-Hetchy Valley will fight to the extremity any effort to divert water from Hetch-Hetchy. We are not leaving upon any wrangle. We are in earnest. Water is life to us. We do not propose to see 200,000 acres remain arid and desolate forever. The use of Hetch-Hetchy water means that."

It is expected that the meeting tomorrow night will result in a display of verbal pyrotechnics, for the farmers of the Modesto district "are seeing red" in the words of John C. Cuneo, Chamber of Commerce president.

3000 COLLEGE CADETS GATHER

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—Answering the "assembly" call on the University of California campus, these thousand college students, members of the federal R. O. T. C., formed on the university drill ground this morning to be organized into working units. The formation was the first gathering of the cadets this year.

Two days ago the men were enrolled for drill, and this morning eighteen companies were organized and drill was begun within an hour. The sixteen companies of cadets formed last year were continued and two new freshmen companies were organized among new students.

The work of the R. O. T. C. is under the supervision of Colonel T. Nance and Majors E. T. Underhill and N. Fleke. Actual drill work is divided by cadet officers who are members of the university student body.

Because of the great size of the unit and because of the previous support of President D. P. Barrows, who is a strong advocate of the R. O. T. C. type of college training, military officials on the campus expect that the university unit will again be among those receiving recognition from the federal government this year.

SCUTTLERS STILL AT WORK.

Elsewhere on this page will be found a letter from City Attorney H. L. Hagan to the Oakland city council commenting on the editorial in THE TRIBUNE of January 12 under the heading, "Scuttlers At Work."

That letter is a fair example of the pettifoggery legalism by which the majority in the city council is seeking to justify its raids upon the civil service system. It is first-hand proof of the statement that Commissioners Morse, Soderberg and Edwards are assisted by the city attorney in their plot to destroy the efficiency of civil service in the municipal government.

Let the declaration which THE TRIBUNE has uttered more than once be repeated here: This newspaper has no interest whatsoever in the petty political cabals that are being staged by the public servants at the city hall. It is not concerned in the aspirations of one faction as opposed to another, except as the tactics employed injure the public service.

But this newspaper is deeply and permanently interested in upholding the integrity of civil service in the city government and in seeing the principles and ideals of civil service realized in practice. It holds that officials who would wreck and destroy the civil service are disloyal to the people of Oakland and unworthy positions of public trust, because civil service is an article of the fundamental law enacted by the people. That law shall not be ignored.

In this connection two points stand out prominently: First, the majority of the council, Commissioners Morse, Soderberg and Edwards, have passed through its preliminary steps in violation of the position of efficiency accountant under the civil service board and creating a similar position under the direct control of the city council.

Second, this is a proposal to scuttle the civil service board. It would destroy its heart and vitality. It would leave it an empty shell, impotent to render the service for which the people created it.

Without the aid of a salaried efficiency accountant, or an employee performing the necessary tasks under another title, the civil service board cannot perform its charter-prescribed duties. The council proposes to prevent the board from performing its duties by taking away the necessary money and expert assistance.

Moreover, the council would transfer the efficiency work of the civil service board to its own hands, thus freeing itself of the restraints against the political spoliation of public offices which the people intended to impose and did impose through the civil service article of the charter. Already the council, through this majority clique organized to destroy the powers and privileges of the civil service board, has achieved progress in this direction. It has transferred employees from civil service to political control, boosting salaries and finding places for campaign workers and relatives.

In concluding his defense of the program of the three anti-civil service commissioners, the city attorney says:

"I have to advise you that there is nothing in the legislation already passed by you or in the bills now pending before you which . . . can be construed as . . . an evidence of any intent upon the part of the commissioners to attack the system or principles of civil service . . ."

Article 13, section 72, of the charter says: "The council, whenever requested by the board, may by ordinance confer upon the board such rights, duties and privileges other than those mentioned in this Charter, as may be necessary adequately to enforce and carry out the principles of Civil Service."

Among other things the civil service board asked and was granted by a former council the aid of an efficiency accountant. Such is necessary to conducting the system and carrying out the principles of civil service. The present council has, without cause or provocation, and solely to satisfy the schemes of the majority commissioners, proposed to deprive the board of that necessary adjunct.

If it persists in its plan it will, as before stated, kill the civil service board for efficacious service. The proposed ordinance should not pass. It threatens the whole public interest.

EQUAL TO THE OCCASION.

Secretary of State Lansing has frequently drawn the critic's ready barb by his failure to discuss public questions, for the alleged absence of knowledge or opinion concerning governmental acts. But as to one matter, there can be no complaint against the ready emphasis of Mr. Lansing's expression.

Commenting upon the report that the government had agreed to make a loan of $13,500,000,000 to Great Britain, he said that report must have been the product of "intellectual degeneracy or softening of the brain." This ought to be strong enough to satisfy even the wild fancy of those who concocted the canard.

Had Mr. Lansing been more diplomatic he might have said that the report showed a lamentable lack of information as to the manner in which financial relations between this country and Europe may be handled. But apparently he remembered the craving for something with a punch in it and he delivered the goods in prescribed form.

GOOD PROSPECTS.

The visit to the Pacific Coast of Mr. Will H. Hays, chairman of the National Republican Committee, has had many results unquestionably pleasing to him and others interested in the success of the party next November. The response of the men and women prominent in Republican party councils in all the Western States to the invitation to meet the national chairman in San Francisco was most cordial and was evidence of the success of the new methods of organization which Mr. Hays has adopted.

Especially encouraging to the national manager was the enthusiasm which greeted him at all public meetings and the reports of confidence and the favorable state of public sentiment which came from all quarters of the Pacific Coast region. There is unquestionably a deep-rooted discontent over the failure of the present administration to restore any semblance of normal conditions in so long a period after the conclusion of war activities, or to perform any important act calculated to hasten the end of wartime conditions.

Plainly the country is looking forward hopefully to the day when it can decree a change in the national government, a change in men and policies. It has been forced to the conclusion that no substantial progress in reconstruction and readjustment will be made until such a change takes place.

During the last fourteen months the people have been painfully reminded of the truth that the genius for efficient, competent government and for bringing constructive prosperity to take the place of wasteful extravagance that simulates prosperity is to be found in the Republican conception of policies for America. And the American people are practical enough to turn from a program of national government that seeks mainly to save an existing administration to a program that concentrates on the welfare of the country.

The situation carries high promise for Republican success in the coming presidential contest. If no mistakes are made and the natural existing advantages are exploited there can be no doubt as to the outcome. Success largely depends, however, upon how closely party managers and leaders in all sections of the country follow Mr. Hays' example of placing the success of the party above every other consideration, and how assiduously the message that this course is in the interest of a better, a safer and a more prosperous America is carried to the people.

WOMEN'S POLITICAL DEMANDS.

Representatives of Republican women of California, Arizona, Nevada, Washington, Oregon and Idaho have presented to the National Republican Committee several ideas which they desire be incorporated in the platform to be adopted at the Chicago nominating convention next June. These ideas are interesting as indicating the contribution which the women of the West hope to make to national politics and legislation.

Of the resolution reciting the wishes of the women citizens, published in yesterday's TRIBUNE, the first six requests are not particularly new. They deal with more or less familiar ideas on social and industrial conditions. But the last six are peculiarly a statement of what the women hope to achieve for their special benefit through political action. Some of the demands are of long-standing provocation, others have been given emphasis by the war and by the certainty that the enfranchisement of women will shortly be of nation-wide scope. Among other things the women voters want the party platform to declare for the following:

Direct citizenship for women not citizens through marriage as a qualification for the vote. Naturalization for married women to be made possible.

A new policy on the part of the Federal Board for Vocational Education to insure for women equal opportunities with men in trade and technical education.

Compulsory education in every state for all children between 6 and 16, thirty-six weeks of each year and that we favor such changes in our educational system as will provide for thorough education in citizenship of all our youth.

Full support to secure a federal department of education whose secretary shall be a member of the President's cabinet.

Certainly these demands will receive a favorable reception. They have to do with the women and children of the country—the very subjects which the women citizens, when they became voters, were expected to insist upon considering. In principle all the demands must be recognized and only slight latitude exists as to the details for realizing them.

NOTES and COMMENT

Herbert Hoover thinks it is up to Europe to feed Austria. That country really seems to be in a bad way; but it doesn't occur to any nation over there to go to its assistance. They all regard this as the country's bountiful Hoover has been denouncing rations in Europe for five years, and his opinion as to the situation and our further obligation is the result of experience.

Williams Jennings Bryan regards the passing of the peace treaty as a very simple matter, like a motion to adjourn. He urges that it be put through by Friday. But Congress has been chewing over it six months and hasn't acquired the precipitate habit.

The prosecuting attorney at Los Angeles claims that New should be hanged; the attorney for the defense claims that he should be immured in an asylum for the insane, and if the usual course is followed, the jury will foot both, and turn him loose.

The Los Angeles man who made a bet that he could cross a railroad track ahead of an approaching train didn't win. The laconic account states that it is believed at the hospital that he will get well. There will be no objection if he does, though there may be a lack of sincere regret if he does not.

Turkey's heir apparent is reported to be keen for this country's help. Nothing doing. Even the tempting particular that he is going to get along with one wife doesn't melt us.

The national retail clothing store, in convention assembled, deny that they have done a thing to get prices up so high. They say that prices are regulated by supply and demand. That was so in very ancient times, but there are doubting Thomases now.

The shortage of teachers is really serious. When a teacher can make more money at any other occupation she naturally drifts away from teaching. Superintendent Wood says the obvious when he declares adequate salaries to be the only remedy.

If there was a disposition anywhere to exult over the prediction that the price of knit goods is likely to come down, as per an item in the news columns, it was very likely dampened by the information in another item that flour had gone up. The certainty always prevails over the prediction.

It couldn't have been imagined even a few years back that oranges would be shipped to eastern markets by water. The Panama canal and shortage of cars make it feasible and necessary.

The announcement that Marshal Poch will supervise the execution of the treaty is assurance that the matter will be attended to. No advantage is likely to accrue to the parties of the second part through laches.

Minneapolis is touchy. It protests the Los Angeles census count, contending that tourists are being classed as residents. Minneapolis hasn't kept up. It has not heard of "chemical purity," from appearances.

The Bear Flag peasant, which is planned to be held here next June, is something for county-wide, and even state-wide support. This is a fine season to submit irrigation projects to farmers and we may see more of them proposed. The eastern section of the county has been long neglected. Water available for many thousand acres in that district is to be had in the Calaveras Mokelumne watersheds. Some day strangers will drop in to develop that field and then home people will hasten to become interested in a profitable project which everybody through many years has classed as one of the most promising of many irrigation schemes—Stockton Independent.

It will be interesting to the people of this city to know that two of the largest producers of the delta country are looking toward Pittsburg as a possible outlet for all their products, and that as soon as suitable accommodations are provided here for the handling of their produce, a tremendously large volume of business will come this way—Pittsburg Post.

AWAITING TO BE HIRED AND TO BE FIRED

LEGAL ADVICE

Being a Letter From the City Attorney to the City Council of Oakland Regarding an Editorial in The Tribune Entitled "Scuttlers At Work."

Honorable Council of the City of Oakland, Gentlemen:

You have referred to me an editorial under the caption "Scuttlers at Work," which was published in a local newspaper on January 12, 1920, and have requested that I consider the same and report upon the issue of law discussed therein.

The writer of the editorial takes as his text a paragraph from the communication recently received by you from the Civil Service Board protesting against the bills now pending before you abolishing the position of efficiency accountant in the office of the Civil Service Board and creating the position of municipal efficiency expert in the office of the city clerk.

The article itself, however, has a broader scope and attacks in a general way the attitude of three of the commissioners constituting a majority of the council toward the Civil Service Board. These three members of the legislative body are accused of pursuing a venal plot to disrupt and destroy the civil service system of Oakland, of organizing to scuttle the Civil Service Commission, of desiring to destroy the powers which have been vested in the Civil Service Commission by the city charter.

The entire editorial evidences an utter misconception in the mind of the writer of the charter powers of the Civil Service Commission and of the scope of the authority delegated to that body by the organic act of the municipality, as well as a total misconstruction of the purpose of the legislation recently adopted by the Council and of the motives of the commissioners responsible therefor.

The charter vests in the Civil Service Board certain jurisdiction and authority, the most important powers so delegated to it being:

- (1) To classify places of employment.
- (2) To establish rules regulating appointment and promotions.
- (3) To conduct examinations.
- (4) To maintain eligible lists for appointments and promotions.
- (5) To certify candidates from said eligible lists.
- (6) To hear and determine appeals concerning orders imposing penalties.

Other minor prerogatives are expressly conferred by the charter and there is a general grant of power to make rules "to carry out the purpose of this article." But there is no pretense in the charter to constitute the board an efficiency bureau or to confer upon it any authority to investigate methods of administration, the nature, tenure or compensation of officers or places of employment or the subject of departmental efficiency or economy.

All of the subjects enumerated are matters over which the Council, as the legislative body of the city, has supreme and exclusive control and the Council has the unquestionable legal right to make its own investigations for its own information in its own way, and through its own appointees. Neither the letter nor the spirit of the charter is violated or assailed by such a practice.

A number of years ago, the Council saw fit, by ordinance, of its own volition, to enlarge the powers of the Civil Service Board by delegating to that tribunal extensive authority not conferred upon it by the charter, to investigate and report upon methods of administration and other subjects dealing with individual and departmental efficiency, and as a part of that plan there was created in the office of the Civil Service Board, by ordinance, the position of efficiency accountant. These acts on the part of the Council were wholly gratuitous and entirely independent of charter requirements or suggestions.

These are the ordinances which the Council has lately repealed, or the repeal whereof it now contemplates. The effect of such repeal will simply be a resumption by the Council of the powers originally vested in it by the charter and which it voluntarily of its own motion assigned to the Civil Service Board.

It is entirely compatible with the highest motives and the most laudable desire to promote the public service that the members of the Council should determine that that body can more satisfactorily exercise supervision and control over official and administrative efficiency and economy by placing the expert in charge thereof in a position of direct responsibility to it, rather than by receiving the reports and recommendations of such expert indirectly through the medium of the Civil Service Board.

There is in such legislation absolutely no pretense of an attempt to trespass upon or in any way abridge the authority conferred by the charter upon the Civil Service Board. What the Council gave of its own accord it is now resuming for itself. And the Civil Service Board will find itself, upon the passage of the ordinances under the exercise of which the full possession and enjoyment of all of the prerogatives with which it is vested by the charter.

The instrument provides that the board may appoint a clerk, define his duties and fix his compensation. Such clerk is the only employee of the board provided by the charter and it is reasonable to suppose that if the charter framers had intended that the board should possess the extensive powers of an efficiency bureau, in the exercise of which the services of an expert would be required they would have made provision in the organic act for such an office.

I have therefore to advise you that there is nothing in the legislation already passed by you or in the bills now pending before you which can be construed as an attack upon the charter authority of the Civil Service Board, or as an evidence of any intent on the part of the commissioners to attack the system or principles of civil service or the legitimate activities of those who are entrusted with their administration in this city.

Very truly yours,

H. L. HAGAN,
City Attorney.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

How You May Develop Your Ankles by Special Treatment

By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D.

(Jonah Hopkins University)

Unshapely ankles that can be made more graceful in line are only those which are too fleshy or have not flesh enough upon them. These, however, which are too fat or too slender because the shape of the bones is responsible for their form must remain as nature made them. No way has yet been found whereby to reduce the size of bones without irreparable damage.

If you wish to reduce the contour of flesh about your ankles perform the following exercise twice a day: Remove your shoes and stockings and cross your knees. This raises one foot from the floor without any support more than the ankle. Bend it up and down, and make sure that the work is done from the ankle bone. When one foot is tired exercise the other in the same manner until the first is rested. You can vary the exercise somewhat by putting on your shoes and standing on both feet, turning from side to side. When you finish a ten-minute exercise of the ankle bones, plunge the feet into a warm bath. Let the water come above the ankles and allow the feet to remain in the tub for ten minutes.

Wipe the skin gently. Now rub into the open pores as much camphorated oil as the skin will hold. Use hard, strong strokes in the rubbing process so that reduction of flesh may take place as fast as possible. Rub first one ankle and then the other so that the skin may absorb the reduction agent while you alternately work upon the other foot.

After a strong, effective massage with the camphorated oil bind the ankles in linen that is saturated with the oil. The oil may be poured some oil on the skin and use a dry bandage. The linen should be smooth and drawn tightly, but not enough actually to stop the easy flow of the life fluid.

In the morning, you may wipe away the flesh and let it dry before you remove the bandage.

If your purpose is to increase the flesh on your ankles you may use exactly the same kind of exercise and the same massage strokes. Your movements, however, must be gentle instead of rough, so as to allow the muscles to become stimulated to work and not to weariness. In the first instance more tissue is built, whereas, in the second, it is your purpose to fatigue the muscles and so tear down as much built-up muscle tissue as you can.

If you want to add flesh, more-over, the good liver sweet almond oil instead of camphorated oil, and make your bandage light. This is to insure that the oil saturates the pores and allows the skin within the bandage for expansion of flesh.

If you keep up these measures for some months you should at the end of your allotted time find yourself with much shapelier ankles.

YOUR CAR WILL BE GUARDED AT AUTO SHOW

MACHINES OF VISITORS TO BE WATCHED

Unless he attaches his car to the curb with something no less powerful than an anchor chain, the average motorist when parking in the street is apt to be seen taking a little stroll over to the window every five minutes, to see if the price of his beast still remains where he last left it. And with the feeling of enterprise existent among the automotive Alameda County Automobile Association, which opens its show which opens in the Municipal Auditorium next Monday afternoon, can park his car outside the civic structure, spend a couple of hours in enjoying the beauty of the show and come out knowing that he will not have to ride home on a street car.

The management of the event, with much thoughtfulness, has arranged to have a squad of policemen patrol the parking space adjacent to the auditorium and see that no car or its contents are molested. This is but one instance of the thoroughness with which the Motor Car Dealers' Division of the Alameda County Automobile Trade Association have planned their show this year and should afford a feeling of relief to the many automobile owners who will attend the exposition.

PLANS ARE COMPLETED
Tuesday night the motor car dealers of Oakland met and discussed final plans for the exhibit. No detail was left unsettled and every problem was thrashed out until no doubt remained in the minds of the exhibitors as to just what course they would have to follow in displaying their cars. As soon as the dealers have finished their work the entrants will start taking their cars into the auditorium.

The trucks will be arranged in their respective places on Saturday while the passenger cars will enter the arena on Sunday morning. Each dealer has been advised of the time at which he is expected to appear with his car, and at the meeting Tuesday it was decided that a heavy penalty would be imposed on late comers. As the trucks will be taken into the auditorium according to their position in the show, a late arrival could easily cause confusion and halt proceedings. Any dealer who is tardy will be fined $25 for the first five minutes he is late and $50 for any time over that.

DEALERS RESERVE SPACE
In order that the dealers' machines, to be used as demonstrators during the show, will be readily accessible, a parking space has been reserved for this purpose. Signs bearing the exhibitors' names will be posted about the space and only cars bearing dealers' license plates will be allowed admission. A spectator who desires a trial ride in one of the models displayed within the auditorium can be taken out and given an actual demonstration in its duplicate without the usual difficulty of backing and turning out of a crowded parking space.

Certainly everything tends to indicate that the Oakland Auto Show will be the greatest exposition of its kind ever staged in the West.

Talented U. C. Co-ed Dancer Goes on Stage Beatrice Lee Yields to Bright Lights' Lure

Girl Quits University to Join Theatrical Force in San Francisco

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—The bright lights of stageland have won in a contest with the dimmer lights of academic learning for pretty Beatrice Lee.

MISS BEATRICE LEE, who has quit university for the stage.

Lee, former student at the University of California, who has hung aside her cap and gown for a dancer's costume at a San Francisco theater.

Recently Miss Lee announced that she would forsake her college studies to prepare for a professional career in New York. But the lure of the stage proved too strong for the talented co-ed. In the midst of her preparations to go east, she heard the first notes of the trumpet call of time and unpacking her trunks she stayed to dance, despite objections of her family that she prepare further before making her professional appearance.

In San Francisco Miss Lee has created a veritable furore with her dancing. College friends are not surprised at her success for she held first honors on the campus in all forms of dramatics. She was a star of several Treble Clef productions and other campus performances and was active in sorority circles. She is the daughter of Mrs. M. E. Lee of Berkeley.

Finance Experts of World Called to Commercial Parity

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A call for one of the greatest international conferences of commercial and financial figures ever assembled in the United States is being made for post-war financial and commercial chaos was issued, following the meeting of a coterie of nationally known financiers.

The appeal was issued simultaneously with similar proclamations put forth in Great Britain, France, Holland, Switzerland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway.

In each case the documents were signed by business, financial, political and educational leaders in their respective countries.

In the case of the European countries, the appeal was addressed to the respective governments. In the United States the Chamber of Commerce of the United States was asked to arrange the preliminaries of the conference, while the appeal was addressed jointly to that body, the American government and the reparations commission in Paris.

While Germany and Austria were not included in the original call, it was announced that delegates from these countries would be invited to attend the conference.

LADY BIRDS MUST PAY FARE WHEN RIDING RAILS

Ladybirds will have to pay their fare in the future when they travel by rail. "Deadhead" rides are taboo. Such is the edict of the American Railway Express Company.

Relative to this subject George H. Hecke, state director of agriculture, issued the following statement: "Owing to the refusal of the American Railway Express Company to carry, free of charge, as in the past, colonies of ladybirds which have been that deleterious from the state insectary, it will be necessary this season to require a deposit of $1.50 for each colony before orders can be filled."

It is probable that a small refund will be made for the return of the empty crate. This refers only to the common red ladybird, which has been shipped out by the state department of agriculture for use against various plant lice.

B. GARRETT BLAMES SELF TO SAVE GIRL

MARTINEZ, Jan. 15.—Bert Garrett today took all the blame for the hold-up of Virgil Reed, Richmond photographer, armistice day. He told a story that may save from prison Irene Johnson, alias Dorothy Nelson, alleged girl bandit new on trial as his accomplice.

Garrett said today that he had taken the leading part in the robbery to show Garrett that she had "nerved." Garrett said today that he had taken the leading part in the robbery to show Garrett that she had "nerved."

The girl sobbed all during Garrett's testimony. When he told of finding her destitute and poorly clad at Eighth and Broadway, Oakland, and of befriending her, her tears were bitter. When Garrett entered the girl without looking at her. When he assumed the witness stand he looked fixedly at her for at least fifteen seconds. She was silent. Then she burst into tears.

It was their first meeting since Garrett's arrest. Irene Johnson's father and mother were also on the stand today. They said she was weak and easily led. Rebuttal is on this afternoon and the case may go to the jury tonight.

Garrett said he and the girl had been drinking before they went to Richmond and that the purpose of the visit was that the girl might apply for a position at the gallery.

When he pulled a gun she turned pale, he said. It was at his command, he said, that she tied Reed's hand.

The family name of the girl known as Dorothy Nelson, alias Irene Johnson, was revealed for the first time when the prosecution opened its case. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Morgan of San Jose, who appeared with her in court.

The prosecution presented Mrs. E. A. Crockett, a newspaper reporter, for its first witness. Mrs. Crockett stated that Miss Johnson had given her life history when she interviewed her in the jail at Richmond, and had begun her story when E. D. Johnston, attorney for the defense, objected. He became so vociferous that Judge A. B. McQuinn had to rap for order. When order had been restored Mrs. Crockett resumed her story.

Other witnesses for the prosecution were: Walter A. Jacoby, chief of police of Alameda; William W. Kyle, chief of police of Richmond; and Inspector William Kyle of the Oakland police department. In his testimony Kyle stated that Miss Johnson had told him she had held the gun which she and Bert Garrett had held up the store of Virgil Reed. William Wood testified that she had told him that she had not.

Berkeley Zone Rule to Stand

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—Victory for Berkeley's zone ordinance was won today without a legal contest with the argument of Chin Hing Woo, owner of a Chinese laundry at 2035 Berkeley way, to remove his place of business to a district permitting the operation of laundries under the city laws.

Woo, the oldest Chinese laundryman in Berkeley, was arrested recently on the complaint of Mayor Louis Bartlett after he had refused to remove his business from a "restricted" zone prohibiting laundries in its precincts. The case was set for trial on January 21, but will be dismissed as a result of an agreement reached between City Attorney Frank V. Cornish and Frank W. Hooper, attorney for Woo, who declares his client will vacate his place of business within thirty days if action against him is dropped.

The adjustment was reached after Hooper had conferred with John L. McNab of San Francisco, attorney for the Chinese companies. Arrest of Woo was planned as a test of the legality of the zone ordinance as a means of taking steps toward punishing other violators.

BOTH PARTIES FACE SPLITS IN CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Not two but seven or eight national political parties will be in the fight for the presidential nominations by June, and all reports reaching the capital point one way: That month is destined to be the most wretchedly terrible in the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

Both the old parties are threatened with splits. Each is menaced by some such schism as overtook the Republicans in 1912 when the Theodore Roosevelt bolted the G. O. P. and led his newly organized Bull Moose party in a spectacular, but unsuccessful, raid on the White House.

Inside both parties are men of fiery spirit and gifted tongues who will go to the respective conventions at Chicago and San Francisco determined to make their influence felt, and failing in this to take their measures to the people independent of the political organizations with which they are now affiliated.

BRYAN TAKES STAND
In Washington today, due back in California, Senator from California, and running mate with Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 on the progressive ticket, quite obviously is in much the same mood. So are Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, and some others.

Senator Johnson has publicly announced that he bases his hopes not on the politics of his party, but upon the appeal which he intends to make to the voters themselves. He stated that much in announcing himself candidate for the presidency, and has repeated it since in his speeches.

NON-PARTISAN FORCE GROWS
Then there is a non-partisan movement under way and this is bound to have some influence in the coming election. It is very strong in the northwest, where it controls a big string of newspapers and has been studying the situation.

A labor party has been formed in the midwest, and while the American Federation of Labor, headed by Samuel Gompers, disclaims official connection with it, yet he is far from dead and may yet be heard from before the Chicago and San Francisco conventions become history.

Berkeley Represented at S. F. Jinks Tonight

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—Berkeley is well represented at the annual jinks of the Commonwealth Club held in the Colonial room of the St. Francis Hotel tonight. In addition to the minstrel show and other features, at the request of John Barleycorn, former City Attorney Fred A. Ahearn, will represent Coroner Leland, and City Attorney Frank V. Cornish will represent Dr. D. M. Gandier, who appears against Barleycorn. Theodore A. Bell, attorney for John Sykes, in the suit brought against the City of Berkeley, is impersonated by Attorney Dudley Sales. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, former president of the University is to be impersonated by Fred Merkle, who leads the jury in singing folk songs during the trial. At the conclusion of the inquest, Gandier announces that the funeral was a grand success—everybody satisfied.

World League Will Be Born Without U. S.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—The League of Nations will come into being tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at a public ceremony to be held in the public room at the French foreign office, Leon Bourgeois, the French representative, will preside and make the opening address. Earl Curzon of Kedleston, British secretary of state for Foreign Affairs, also will speak. Hugh C. Wallace, American Ambassador to France, and American representative at the peace conference, will not attend.

Besides M. Bourgeois and Earl Curzon, the meeting will be attended by Vittorio Salazar, Italian foreign minister; Premier Venizelos of Greece; Paul Hymans, Belgian foreign minister; Count Quinones de Leon, Spanish Ambassador to France; Viscount Chinda, Japanese Ambassador to Great Britain; Dr. Alfonso Costa, Portuguese peace delegate, and Dr. Gastao da Cunha, Brazilian Ambassador to France.

Press comment on the meeting dwells principally upon the absence of the United States from this entry into the realization of President Wilson's chief aim in the peace conference. Most of the newspapers of Paris predict this absence will not be of long duration and say:

"The League of Nations cannot be complete until America is represented."

RAIDS MARK FIRST STEPS IN VICE WAR

First fruits of the anti-vice campaign which has been instituted here were evident today on the police blotter, where appeared the names of several persons arrested in raids last evening. Violations of the red-light abatement act, the war-time prohibition laws and the narcotic prohibitions are charged against those in custody.

In preparation for the first step in the clean-up, extra patrolmen were placed on the downtown and Chinatown beats. The police decide the campaign against vice will continue. Several other places where immoralities are reported to have persisted are to face police inroads next.

In a raid conducted by Sergeant Weston, O'Hara and Curran in an alleged redlight house raid at 374 Fifth street last night, Wong Hong, who is said by the police to be the proprietor of the place, was arrested and taken to the city jail. Although concealed lookouts gave warning to the inmates of the house, the police succeeded in taking two white girls who are said to be inmates of the place. They are booked at the central police station under the names of Blanche King and May Ilguera.

Lawrence Taccatini and August Pellegrini were arrested at 919 Fifty-fourth avenue by Sergeant W. F. Cooley and members of the police moral squad on a charge of violating the prohibition law. They are specifically charged with selling wine to the officers and will probably face federal prosecution.

STEPHENS TO QUIT POLITICS, REPORT

an interview with Assemblyman Maurice B. Brown, Governor William D. Stephens is reported by the legislator as having said, "I will not be a candidate for any public office in the future."

Stephens' declaration to Brown, who visited him to urge the calling of a special session of the legislature to enact anti-Japanese legistion, is the governor's first definite statement denying the report that he is an aspirant for a seat in the United States Senate.

Brown said that the governor made the declaration following the affirmation that he would not allow political pressure to influence him in calling a special session.
